RSF Open Rec:

- The RSF Open Rec sessions are designed for independent pairs or groups seeking some quality solo practice time. Feel free to come in and hone your technique at your own pace.
- Note: During these times, please only use the tables marked in green "Open Rec Table" (unless you are a due-paying club member). We have had multiple tables broken due to improper handling*.

RSF Open Rec Schedule

Please note: Both sessions are open to players of all skill levels. Whether you're a seasoned pro or a beginner looking to improve, we have a spot for you! We have loaner paddles available as well as multi-ball training. Grab your paddle, gather your friends, and get ready to unleash your table tennis prowess. We look forward to seeing you at our sessions!

If you are interested in joining our competitive team, lookout for an announcement on our social accounts in the Fall. Tryouts are usually around Halloween (usually 1-3 weeks before). Email calttc@gmail.com if you have any questions.

* The tables primarily get damaged when the red latch holding the table up fails or is not latched properly and one half of the table slams to the ground. Most of the tables marked in red require the net to be taken on and off. Damage occurs when people try to close these tables without taking off the net first. The tables marked with green have built-in nets and do not require the net to be removed. The red latches on the tables marked green are broken and can be ignored.
